

ABSTRACTS and KEYWORDS

PPOA 2-2018

Anufrieva D.A.

Self-presentation as one of the foundations of the image of a police officer

Annotation.

the article deals with the psychological component of the image, the processes of its formation and influence on society and on the police officers themselves. We study the effect of self-presentation, which occurs through the self-determination of the employee on self-rating and self-image, and the entire image of the police officer in general. The need to actualize the need for knowledge and skills of applying the psychology of image to every police officer, whether a cadet or a permanent staff member.

Key words: image, self-presentation, self-image, self-determination, stress resistance, self-rating.

Doroshenko O.M.

The content of socio-pedagogical interaction of the police unit on juvenile affairs with the social teacher of the educational institution

Annotation.

At the present stage of development of society considered antisocial phenomenon is widespread. Problems in the economy, political reform, lack of healthy public consciousness, proper family education, pedagogical and psychological assistance led to the emergence of juvenile delinquency. In this regard, there is an urgent need to think about the welfare of the younger generation, as well as to take certain measures in the implementation of the tasks of detection, prevention and suppression of socially dangerous acts of minors.

Key words: minor, offense, teacher, interaction, education, method, reception.

Druzhinina V.N.

Reflexive analysis of professional activity of police officers within the framework of the self-concept structure

Annotation.

This article discusses the theoretical aspect of the stated topic, as well as the results of ascertaining the experiment, the respondents of which were the cadets of the Institute of training for preliminary investigation of the Moscow University of the Ministry of internal Affairs of Russia named after V.Ya. Kikotya and omvd of Russia in the area «Khamovniki» GU MIA of Russia in Moscow, a total of 50 people. The author's questionnaire consisting of 10 questions was used as a method. In addition, the author analyzes the reflection of the activities of police officers on their chosen profession, on the basis of the most influential elements of the formation of their own image, which reflects the real picture of the image of the profession of police officers.

Key words: reflection, self-concept, occupation, self-determination, the image of the profession.

Kostina E.Yu.

Creativity as a factor in successful performance of famous employees of operational units of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia

Annotation.

The article presents the results of the analysis of operational and investigative activities of famous employees and shows specific manifestations of creative abilities. The specific nature of these abilities of each employee is emphasized, the combination of which, along with other professional and important qualities, ensures the effectiveness of the activity.

Key words: operational-investigative activity, creative abilities, MUD, creativity, observation, flexibility of thinking.

Markelov N.N., Tichomirov S.N.

Means of formation of professional and personal qualities of cadets of educational organizations of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia

Annotation.

The analysis of the problem of professional and personal qualities of cadets of educational organizations of the Ministry of internal Affairs of Russia is presented. The role of professional and personal qualities in the structure of operational and official activity of employees of internal Affairs bodies is shown. The authors identify specific professional qualities that can be formed in the cadets of educational organizations of the Ministry of internal Affairs of Russia during vocational training. Levels of formation of professional and personal qualities are defined and characterized.

Key words: professional training, pedagogical support, cadets, professional and personal qualities.

Myshenkova Yu.Yu.

Independent work on discipline «fire training» as a scientific-methodological problem

Annotation.

Independence is a concept of scholarly interest in relation to higher education. At the same time independence is characterised by a certain conceptual ambiguity, and, consequently, tends to be understood differently in different academic contexts, including in the discipline of fire training. The aim of this article is, thus, further study and improvement of fire training, namely independent preparation in it.

Key words: pedagogy, education, independence, independent work, independent training, fire training, organizational and methodical conditions, cadets.

Nikitskaya C.A., Sivoronov D.I.

Individual characteristics of children with developmental disabilities

Annotation.

the article analyzes the issues of increasing the percentage of children with developmental disabilities and their psychological and pedagogical characteristics. In this connection, the authors emphasize the relevance of the issue of socialization of children and adolescents with developmental disabilities through social and labor adaptation. The article proposes the basic conditions for the implementation of the tasks of social and labor adaptation of minors through the introduction of pedagogical technologies.

Key words: developmental deviation, minor, educational process, social and labor adaptation.

Pashentseva C.D.

Typical mental States in the professional activity of the police patrol service

Annotation.

The article deals with the psychological characteristics of the professional activity of the police patrol service, affecting the occurrence of typical mental States.

Key words: professional activity, psychological features of activity, mental state, typical mental States.

Rusetskaya D.V.

The use of psychophysical training in the moral-psychological training of employees of internal Affairs bodies

Annotation.

Due to the specificity of official duties, employees of the internal Affairs bodies perform various operational and service duties that require extreme stress of physical, spiritual and moral forces. The range of tasks performed by employees is wide and diverse. Therefore, the issues of moral and psychological support of operational and service activities of employees, and carrying out a complex of measures with them, are becoming increasingly important. The totality and literacy of these measures should be directed at increasing the level of moral and psychological readiness of employees of the internal Affairs bodies. We offer one of the methods of psychological work – psychophysical training. The structure and peculiarities of psychophysical training are presented. The positive influence of psychophysical training on the employees of the internal Affairs bodies was proved experimentally.

Key words: psychophysical training, moral and psychological training, service activity, psychologist, employees of internal Affairs bodies.

Sveshnikova V.O.

The influence of physio biomechanical parameters, technical aspects of shooting, and psychophysiological factors on biathlon performance

Annotation.

Biathlon is an Olympic sports discipline that includes cross-country skiing and rifle shooting, which requires a high level of physical fitness, good motor skills during shooting after intense work and under psychological pressure. The need for skiing with a rifle and shooting make this discipline is unique in its own way. The article studies and summarizes the scientific literature on biathlon, based on physiological and biomechanical factors, shooting techniques and its psychophysiological aspects.

Key words: postural balance, small-caliber rifle, biomechanics, psychophysiological factors, physiological reactions, physical preparation, skiing.