

About the institute of the Commissioner for human rights in the subjects of the Russian Federation

Aleksandra A. Kalgina

Moscow State Institute of International Relations (University)

Russian Foreign Ministry, Moscow, Russia, AleksandraNauka6@yandex.ru

Abstract. In the article, based on the analysis of literature and legislation on the institution of the Commissioner for Human Rights in the subjects of the Russian Federation, several judgments are made: in the Russian Federation, in connection with the formation of the rule of law, the institution of the Commissioner for the Rights of the Child in the subjects of the Russian Federation has been formed; the purpose of the institution of the Commissioner for the Rights of the Child is to protect human rights in the subjects of the Russian Federation; a regulatory legal act specifically designed to regulate the activities of the Commissioner for the Rights of the Child is the Federal Law of the Russian Federation “On Human Rights Commissioners in the subjects of the Russian Federation” dated March 5, 2020, which allows applying the rules of comprehensive legal regulation.

Keywords: subject of the Russian Federation, legislation, regulatory legal act, Constitution of the Russian Federation, Federal Law of the Russian Federation “On Human Rights Commissioners in the Subjects of the Russian Federation”, subordinate regulatory legal act, human rights

About the institute of the Commissioner for children’s rights in the civil society system of the Russian Federation

Alexey Yu. Kirsanov

Scientific-Research Institute of Education and Science, Moscow, Russia, inconsult.ak@gmail.com

Abstract. In the article, based on the analysis of literature and legislation on the institution of the Commissioner for Children’s Rights in the civil society system of the Russian Federation, several judgments are made: in the Russian Federation, in connection with the formation of the rule of law, the institution of the Commissioner for the Rights of the Child has been formed; the purpose of the institution of the Commissioner for the Rights of the Child is the legal protection of children in difficult life situations in the Russian Federation; a regulatory legal act specifically designed to regulate the activities of the Commissioner for the Rights of the Child is the Federal Law of the Russian Federation “On the Commissioners for the Rights of the Child in the Russian Federation” dated December 19, 2018, which makes it possible to apply the rules of comprehensive legal regulation.

Keywords: legislation, regulatory legal act, Constitution of the Russian Federation, Federal Law of the Russian Federation “On Commissioners for Children’s Rights in the Russian Federation”, subordinate regulatory legal act, civil society, child

On the specifics of the regulation of the work of minors in the Russian Federation

Irina V. Larina

Academy of Management of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia, Moscow, Russia, office@unity-dana.ru

Abstract. In the article, based on the analysis of literature and legislation on the peculiarities of regulating the work of minors in the Russian Federation, several judgments are made: labor legislation in the Russian Federation is codified and presented in the form of a codified federal law of the Russian Federation — the Labor Code of the Russian Federation of December 21, 2001; regarding Chapter 34 of the Labor Code of the Russian Federation, it is advisable to clarify its name and present it as “Regulation of the labor of minors aged 14 to 18 years”; the labor of minors aged 16 and over, on which the provisions of the institute of emancipation are distributed, regulated in a general manner.

Keywords: Russian Federation, legislation, labor legislation, regulatory legal act, Constitution of the Russian Federation, Federal Law of the Russian Federation, Federal Law of the Russian Federation “On the basics of the system of prevention of neglect and juvenile delinquency” dated May 21, 1999, Labor Code of the Russian Federation dated December 21, 2001, minor, emancipation

Russia’s participation in international acts regulating the protection of children from destructive information

Fyodor G. Myshko

State University of Management, Moscow,
Russia, fg_myshko@guu.ru

Abstract. The problem of protecting minors from the negative information environment is quite acute not only in the Russian Federation, but also in other states, as a result of which attempts are being made at the international level to establish common principles and mechanisms for ensuring the information security of children. In the context of modern challenges, taking into account the fact that at the moment Russia has suspended or terminated its participation in some international acts, it is relevant to analyze Russia’s participation in regional international acts of the CIS, BRICS, and EurAsEC countries. This study analyzes the basic principles of protecting children from destructive information, defined by regional international acts.

Keywords: protection of children from destructive information, international acts, CIS countries, BRICS, EurAsEC, international principles

Protection of children under international humanitarian law

Anatoly K. Pimanov¹, Yulia A. Ivanova²

¹ Academy of Civil Protection of the Ministry of Emergency Situations of Russia,

Moscow, Russia, antpmn@yandex.ru

² Russian Technological University - MIREA, Moscow, Russia, julia-ivanova-77@yandex.ru

Abstract. International humanitarian law provides for special protection of children as persons who do not take part in hostilities, and special protection as the most vulnerable persons. Moreover, children participating in military operations also fall under protection. During international armed conflicts, children are included in the category of persons protected by the IV Geneva Convention relative to the Protection of Civilian Persons in Time of War.

Keywords: war, teenage children, history, international law, children's rights, fighting

Constitutional and legal mechanism for the implementation of the rights of migrant children in the Russian Federation

Antonina Yu. Sokolova

Moscow University of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia named after V. Ya. Kikot', Moscow, Russia, lokont@mail.ru

Abstract. The relevance of this article is primarily due to the fact that the authorities of the Russian Federation have long remained aloof from the problem of protecting and implementing the legitimate rights of migrant children. Nevertheless, a lot of contradictions and difficulties have accumulated for a long time in the practical implementation of the rights of migrant children (the right to education, the right to life and health, the right to freedom of religion and parental care). Only at the end of 2021, according to official data, there are about 800 thousand in Russia migrant children whose legal status is specific and special from a legal point of view.

Keywords: migrant children, minors, the state, civil society, realization of rights, protection of legitimate interests, parents

Measures preventing children's road traffic injuries

Yulia S. Aliyeva

Academy of Management of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia, Moscow, Russia, sosedka9@mail.ru

Abstract. The article discusses the administrative and legal aspects of the safety of minors in the field of road safety.

Keywords: minor road user, ensuring road safety, measures of administrative influence, persuasion, propaganda

Some aspects of individual prevention in relation to persons engaged in prostitution

Ildar Kh. Apaev¹, Mikhail A. Pestretsov²

¹ ² Moscow University of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia named after V.Ya. Kikotya, Moscow, Russia
¹ office@unity-dana.ru
² pestretsov.mikhail@bk.ru

Abstract. The article discusses the issues of individual prevention in relation to persons engaged in prostitution. The reasons and conditions of offenses of persons engaged in prostitution are analyzed. The main directions of preventive measures for the prevention and counteraction of offenses against persons engaged in prostitution are proposed.

Keywords: prevention, prevention, offenses, prostitution, operational units, criminal investigation, suppression of offenses

Administrative and legal measures, aimed at reducing child anesthesia

Natalia P. Bezyazykova

Academy of Management of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia, Moscow, Russia, natalya_uu20@mail.ru

Abstract. The article discusses the measures taken to counter and prevent the illegal consumption of narcotic drugs, psychotropic substances by minors.

Keywords: minors, drug users, administrative responsibility, preventive measures

Criminogenic potential of information and telecommunication systems and their influence on the youth environment

Anatoliy V. Bogdanov¹, Evgeniy N. Khazov²

¹ Kikot Moscow University of the MIA of Russia, Moscow, Russia, office@unity-dana.ru

² FGI Research Institute of the Federal Penitentiary Service of Russia, Moscow, Russia, evg.hazov@yandex.ru

Abstract. The article discusses the issues of information and telecommunication systems and their impact on the youth information environment of modern Russia. The role and significance of the criminogenic potential of information and telecommunication systems and the activities of law enforcement agencies for the prevention of offenses among young people are analyzed. The main directions for the effective use of information and telecommunication systems for the prevention, counteraction and disclosure of offenses and crimes by law enforcement agencies are proposed.

Keywords: information and telecommunication systems, youth environment, law enforcement agencies, prevention, counteraction, crime, organized crime, operational units, internal affairs bodies

The death penalty in modern Russia: pro or cons?

Igor I. Bryka¹, Egor V. Tsybulko²

^{1 2} All-Russian State University of Justice (RPA of the Ministry of Justice of Russia),

Moscow, Russia

¹ iibr04@mail.ru

² egor.soup@yandex.com

Abstract. The article considers the issue of abolishing the moratorium on the death penalty in the Russian Federation. The consequences that can more effectively affect the criminogenic situation are analyzed, which will reduce the commission of such crimes as murder, terrorist act, sabotage and some others. In the event that the moratorium is lifted, the authors propose an adjustment of the sanctions in some articles of the Criminal Code of the Russian Federation.

Keywords: moratorium, reform, death penalty, right to life, sabotage, soldier, civilian

Features of the impact of modern technologies on the environment

Yulia A. Ivanova¹, Muslimat A. Aliverdieva²

¹ Russian Technological University - MIREA, Moscow, Russia, julia-ivanova-77@yandex.ru

² Dagestan State University, Makhachkala, Russia, mail@law-books.ru

Abstract. We are currently living in a period of rapid change, when technological developments are revolutionizing our way of life, at the same time innovations are leading the modern generation further into the depths of a natural disaster in the form of climate change and a shortage of natural resources.

Keywords: technologies, innovations, climate change, natural resources, ecology, nature, environment

Climate change and the environment

Rashid A. Ismailov

All-Russian Public Organization for the Protection and Protection of Natural Resources "Russian Ecological Society", Moscow, Russia, ismailov@ecosociety.ru

Abstract. Environmental diplomacy has proved its importance in building trust within the framework of international and regional cooperation. In this regard, environmental diplomacy is becoming an integral part of international politics.

Keywords: ecology, nature, nature management, environment, diplomacy, politics, environmental diplomacy

Actual problems of establishing the origin of children born with the use of assisted reproductive technologies

Inna A. Maksimova

Moscow University of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia named after V.Ya.Kikot', Moscow, Russia, maksinna.law@gmail.com

Abstract. The current problems of the institution of establishing the origin of children in the case of the use of assisted reproductive technologies and surrogate motherhood, as well as directions for improving legislation in the field of regulation of contractual relations with the participation of a surrogate mother are considered.

Keywords: assisted reproductive technologies (ART), reproductive rights, establishing the origin of children, motherhood, paternity, parental legal relations, surrogate motherhood, contractual relations, legal principles, judicial protection

Current directions of comparative legal research on legislative support for countering domestic violence

Vladimir M. Redkous

Institute of the State and Law of the Russian Academy of Science, Moscow, Russia, rwmmos@rambler.ru

Abstract. The article, based on the analysis of specialized legislative acts of the CIS member states, identifies the current directions of comparative legal research on legislative support for countering domestic violence.

Keywords: public administration, protection of public order, ensuring public safety, national security, internal affairs bodies, domestic violence, prevention of violence, countering violence, administrative responsibility, criminal responsibility, comparative legal research, CIS member States

Administrative and legal means of preventing domestic violence used by the internal affairs bodies of the Republic of Tajikistan

Parvini Rakhmullo Sharifzoda

Academy of Management of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia, Moscow, Russia, sharifzoda.parvin@mail.ru

Abstract. The article discusses the main administrative and legal means of preventing domestic violence used by the internal affairs bodies of the Republic of Tajikistan in accordance with the legislation of the Republic of Tajikistan

Keywords: public administration, administrative law, administrative procedural law, national security, protection of public order, ensuring public safety, internal affairs bodies, prevention, prevention of domestic violence, administrative and legal means, administrative responsibility, administrative detention, protective order, comparative jurisprudence

Information telecommunication network Internet as the main way of introducing minors to the subculture of schoolshooters (columbineers)

Sofia Yu. Shemchuk¹, Elena A. Ranenkova²

^{1 2} Moscow Regional Branch of the Moscow University of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia named after V.Ya. Kikot, Staroteryaev village, Russia

¹ Haligali008@mail.ru

² earanenkovamof@rambler.ru

Abstract. The article substantiates the need for legislative consolidation of such crimes as shooting in educational organizations related to the concepts of schoolshooting and columbine. The personality of the shooter, the main reasons for the commission and ways of introducing minors to the subculture of schoolshooters are considered. The essence of such phenomena as “Werther syndrome” and “Overton window” is revealed.

Keywords: criminal subculture, Internet network, educational organization, schoolshooting, Columbine, shooter, bullying

Children of the Great Patriotic War: historical memory

Igor V. Groshev¹, Yulia A. Davydova², Yulia A. Ivanova³, Alexander V. Kudimov⁴, Nodari D. Eriashvili⁵

^{1, 3, 5} International Non-Governmental Foundation “House for Orphans”, Moscow, Russia

² Editorial staff of the magazine “Protect me”, Moscow, Russia, UA_Davidova@mail.ru

¹ Commonwealth of Graduates of the Postgraduate School of the Higher School of the KGB of the USSR — Adjuncture of the Academy of the FSB of Russia, Moscow, Russia, aus_tgy@mail.ru

¹ aus_tgy@mail.ru

³ julia-ivanova-77@yandex.ru

² professor60@mail.ru

Abstract. To remember the war, heroism and courage of those who fought the enemy and saved the Homeland from the fascist invasion means to fight for peace. It is the duty of all who live on earth. The events of the Great Patriotic War are moving further into the depths of history, but the significance of Great Victory does not fade in the eyes of modern society, on the contrary, it acquires more meaning, becomes more prominent against the background of modern political realities.

Keywords: the Great Patriotic War, feat, children, heroes, fascism, historical memory, patriotism, motherland, USSR, front, war, Victory

About the humanity of military-historical memory

Vasily D. Samoilov

Bulletin of the Omsk Branch of the Academy of Military Sciences, Russia, vas.samoylow2016@yandex.ru

Abstract. There is a complex on Victory Square in Donetsk, in which there are two Hundred children in mortal troubles, in whose honor he was named Angel Alley because the souls of children flew up to Him from a young age. The atrocities of murderers in Europe, “wild geese” from the USA, not a tear of Penelope, — the soul is etched in them. To the Nazis, the blood of the innocent only gives malice. An example of all epic wars. Russia pays tribute to the greatness of the Soldier in the battles for our Donbass. The souls of infants are holy, — their angelic order.

Keywords: Alley of Angels, humanism, historical and memorable

Features of the prevention of offenses committed by minors under restrictive measures during the pandemic and COVID-19

Sergey V. Bubnov

Moscow University of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia named after V.Ya. Kikot', Moscow, Russia, serzh.bubnov.00@inbox.ru Abstract. The article considers certain aspects of the activities of law enforcement officers to prevent crimes committed by minors during the pandemic caused by coronavirus infection (COVID-19). Separate measures for optimization of the considered direction of activity of law enforcement agencies are offered.

Keywords: crime, delinquency, minors, COVID-19 pandemic, crime prevention, restrictive and preventive measures

Features of the preliminary investigation of criminal cases against minors

Alexander I. Glushkov¹, Sergey Viktorovich Dubrovin²

¹ Moscow Pedagogical State University, Moscow, Russia, profglushkov@mail.ru

² Kikot Moscow University of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia, Moscow, Russia, idubrovin@rambler.ru

Abstract. The article deals with theoretical and legal issues concerning the regulation of the preliminary investigation in criminal cases of crimes committed by persons under the age of 18. Based on the results of the analysis carried out, the necessity of improving a number of provisions of the criminal procedure legislation in order to increase the effectiveness of ensuring the rights and legitimate interests of juvenile accused and suspects when applying measures of criminal procedural coercion to them is substantiated.

Keywords: investigator, minor accused, suspect, detention of a suspect, detention, measures of criminal procedural coercion

Improving the activities of the internal affairs bodies of the Russian Federation for the prevention of neglect and juvenile delinquency

Igor A. Kalinichenko¹, Natalia N. Krasnoshtanova², Nodari D. Eriashvili³

¹ ³ Moscow University of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia named after V.Ya. Kikot', Moscow, Russia

² Research Institute of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia, SIC No. 2, Moscow, Russia, krasnoshtanova_n@bk.ru.

³ office@unity-dana.ru

Abstract. The article discusses the role, place and sphere of responsibility of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia in the system of prevention of neglect and juvenile delinquency. The authors express an opinion on the use of the capabilities of the operational units of the internal affairs bodies of the Russian Federation in the operational- investigative prevention of juvenile delinquency. The directions of improving the activities of the internal affairs bodies are indicated Of the Russian Federation for the prevention of neglect and juvenile delinquency, one of which is to strengthen cooperation between juvenile affairs units and operational units.

Keywords: prevention of neglect and juvenile delinquency, criminal activity of adolescents, juvenile delinquency, operational investigative prevention

The identity of a minor who commits violent crimes in isolation from society

Sergey V. Krivosheev¹, Stanislav I. Kirillov²

¹ Witte Moscow University, Moscow, Russia, 9262625339@mail.ru

² Moscow University of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia named after V.Ya. Kikot, Moscow, Russia, office@unity-dana.ru

Abstract. This article is devoted to the study of the personality of a criminal who commits violent crimes in isolation from society: in educational colonies and pre-trial detention centers. Some aspects of the minor's personality are analyzed. In order to bring to criminal responsibility persons who commit violent crimes in correctional institutions at a minor age, it is proposed to supplement Article 20 of the Criminal Code with Part 4.

Keywords: juvenile, violence, educational colony, pre-trial detention center

Activities of the PDN inspector for the prevention of teenage vandalism

Maria A. Knyazeva

Moscow University of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia named after V.Ya. Kikot, Moscow, Russia, masha.knyazeva.01@inbox.ru Abstract. In the article, teenage vandalism is considered as a destructive behavioral reaction characterized by the destructive actions of teenagers aimed at defiling socio-cultural values and objects, public buildings, damaging state or personal property of citizens, caused by negative emotional states in teenagers. In the work of the PDN inspector to prevent the facts of vandalism, an important direction should be educational work for the prevention and prevention of vandalism.

Keywords: teenage vandalism, destructive behavioral reaction, desecration of social and cultural values and objects, juvenile affairs inspector, educational work

The system of interaction between internal affairs bodies and temporary detention centers for juvenile offenders

Galina A. Levchuk

Moscow University of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia
named after V.Ya. Kikot, Moscow, Russia, ol.mironenkova@gmail.com

Abstract. The article considers the system of interaction between internal affairs bodies and temporary detention centers for juvenile offenders. The features and specifics of the centers are revealed, taking into account the historical process, the history of their creation, the modern conditions in which their activities are carried out. The categories of minors that can be placed in temporary detention centers for juvenile offenders, according to the current legislation, are listed.

Keywords: juvenile offenders, prevention of offenses and crimes, temporary detention center for juvenile offenders, interaction, internal affairs bodies

Bodies of the Prosecutor's Office in the system of prevention of offenses among minors

Yan L. Mironenkov¹, Polina E. Gorykina²

^{1 2} All-Russian State University of Justice (RPA of the Ministry of Justice of Russia), Moscow, Russia

¹ office@unity-dana.ru

² olka-olga@yandex.ru

Abstract. The organization of the activities of the prosecutor's office in the field of prevention of crimes committed by minors has a number of problematic aspects. It seems that the allocation by federal legislation of supervision over the implementation of laws on minors, which should be carried out in the main areas identified by us earlier, as an independent industry, the possession of a clear and complete picture of the level and state of crime; in-depth supervision of the activities of the CDN and PDN; increasing the level of interaction between various state bodies; focusing on the personality of a juvenile delinquent; An increase in the number of special schools will make it possible to achieve the necessary level of combating juvenile delinquency, and will also contribute to the prevention of this kind of crime.

Keywords: prosecution authorities, juvenile delinquency, personality of a juvenile delinquent, juvenile affairs units, interaction

Features of the work of educational organizations and departments for juvenile affairs with representatives of youth subcultures

Alexander P. Solodunin

Russian State Social University, Moscow, Russia, olka-olga@yandex.ru

Abstract. The features of the work of educational organizations and departments for juvenile affairs with representatives of such a destructive subculture as Columbine are revealed. It is indicated that with the complex interaction of PDN employees, class teachers, school psychologists, social teachers, parents, it is possible to effectively counteract the influence of asocial groups on adolescents.

Keywords: youth subculture, Columbine, bullying, complex interaction, activation of work with teenagers, juvenile affairs officer, school psychologist, social teacher, parents

The history of the formation and development of domestic legislation on the criminal responsibility of minors

Evgeniya S. Chukanova¹, Alexander A. Nikonorov²

^{1 2} Moscow Regional Branch of the Moscow University of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia named after V.Ya. Kikot, Staroteryaev village, Russia

¹ Upik2021@mail.ru

² Nikonorov777@mail.ru

Abstract. The relevance of the work is determined by the need to consider the history of criminal legislation of responsibility for involving a minor in committing acts that pose a danger to his life. The main historical stages of the development of criminal legislation in relation to minors are determined, the peculiarities of the legal status of minors in Russian legislation are studied. The conclusion is made about the need to implement international norms in the field of legal protection of the rights of minors in Russian legislation.

Keywords: minors, criminal responsibility, age, protection of children and adolescents, implementation, experience of foreign countries

Features of child crime

Grigory M. Sarbayev

European Association of Lawyers, Moscow, Russia, Greg@zakonoved.com

Abstract. In a country with a high crime situation, there is a threatening level of juvenile delinquency. In this case, conditions are formed in society for the involvement of minors in illegal activities. In such a situation, legal norms should ensure an adequate reaction of the state to what is happening.

Keywords: child crime, teenagers, legal responsibility, offense, crime, punishment

The influence of physical exercises on the development and correction of physique

Vadim M. Bychkov¹, Vladislav Yu. Kapitonov²

^{1,2} Moscow University of Russia named after V.Ya. Kikot', Moscow, Russia

¹ wind2999@rambler.ru

² alsgord@mail.ru

Abstract. This paper discusses the tools of physical culture for regulating body weight and working on posture defects, and also determines the role of physical culture and education in promoting health, increasing overall performance and mental state of the body.

Keywords: body weight, physique, exercise, physical health, correction

The main directions, methods and technology of work of a social pedagogue with single-parent families

Vladimir A. Ponomarenko

Moscow University of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia
named after V.Ya. Kikot, Moscow, Russia, mixff@mail.ru

Abstract. The main directions of the dependence of the social test of work with previously single-parent families are considered, namely: the provision of playing urgent social, emergency measures for the child's survival of the family; the provision of medium-term measures, which should lead to support the stability of the family; provision of long-term measures, therapy aimed premise for the social development of family members and its members; preventive stage measures questionnaire, preventing the occurrence of associated "accidental" incomplete pedagogical mind families. An analysis of the methods and technologies of the work of a social pedagogue with single-parent families is given.

Keywords: social work, social pedagogue, single-parent families, emergency measures, preventive measures, stability

Pedagogical heritage in the work of I.A. Ilyin: spiritual formation and self-education of the individual

Olga V. Svinareva¹, Miroslav V. Peshkov²

^{1,2} Moscow University of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia named after V.Ya. Kikotyа, Moscow, Russia

¹ Olga.svinareva@mail.ru

² peshkovmiroslavv2013@yandex.ru

Abstract. Spiritual education and self-education is considered by I.A. Ilyin as a fundamental beginning of the formation and development of personality. Only through spiritual experience can a person assimilate and internalize general cultural, Christian values, fill life with the meaningfulness of being, and through spiritual enrichment, join God and be imbued with love for perfection. Legacy of I.A. Ilyin is an invaluable contribution to the pedagogical thought of the 20th century. The problems that the modern education system faces, in particular the problems of the formation and development of a holistic, harmonious personality, value-semantic orientation in a hyper-informed society, the pluralism of moral values and relativism, can be resolved by rethinking the heritage of I.A. Ilyin.

Keywords: legacy of I.A. Ilyina, spiritual education and self-education, formation and development of personality, meaningfulness of being, Christian values

Educational and educational programs as a mechanism for protecting children from the destructive information environment

Svetlana E. Titor

State University of Management, Moscow, Russia, setitor@mail.ru

Abstract. One of the mechanisms for protecting children and adolescents from the destructive information environment is the development and implementation of special educational and educational programs not only for children, but also for their parents and teachers. It is recognized that, first of all, adults who are literate and trained in such skills should stand on protecting children from the impact of negative information on children. This study analyzes the experience of teachers' professional development in protecting students from the destructive information environment of the Internet, as well as the experience of teaching and educational work among parents to help them protect their children from negative information. The sociological survey conducted within the framework of this study allows us to determine how effectively the mechanisms of information security of children are implemented.

Keywords: educational programs, educational work, protection of children and adolescents from destructive information, teachers, parents

Factors affecting the manifestation of deviant behavior in adolescence

Georgy A. Zhukov

Moscow University of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia
named after V.Ya. Kikot, Moscow, Russia, ol.mironenkova@gmail.com

Abstract. Deviant behavior is considered as a multidimensional socio-psychological phenomenon, which is expressed in violation of the norms and rules created by society. The main scientific approaches in relation to deviation are stated. The factors influencing the manifestation of deviant behavior in adolescence are given.

Keywords: deviant behavior, socio-psychological phenomenon, minors, adolescence, negative emotions, social environment, deviations in social, physical and mental development

Domestic violence against minors with mental retardation, physical disabilities, and disabilities. Topical issues of prevention

Anastasia A. Ivanova

Moscow University of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia named after

V.Ya. Kikot, Moscow, Russia, olka-olga@yandex.ru

Abstract. The manifestation of ill-treatment in relation to minors suffering from mental retardation, physical disabilities, and disabilities is considered from two sides: the manifestation of ill-treatment by legal representatives may come from a number of problems that arise in various areas of their activity; may come from the psychological characteristics of one of the parents.

Responsibility for violence or abuse of children with disabilities or children with mental retardation is carried out according to the general principle. Responsibility of parents for the improper performance of their duties for the ~~maintenance, education, upbringing and cruel treatment of minors is provided for~~ by the legislation of the Russian Federation.

Keywords: minors suffering from mental retardation, physical disabilities, having a disability, abuse, psychological characteristics, parental responsibility

Development of the personality of minors in conditions of parental deprivation

Ekaterina E. Kovalenko

Moscow University of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia
named after V.Ya. Kikotya, Moscow, Russia, kovalenkoe747@gmail.com

Abstract. The development of the personality of minors in conditions of parental deprivation is considered. The article is based on a study of the assessment of the individual psychological characteristics of the personality of minors who find themselves in conditions of parental deprivation, based on the use of a multifactorial personality questionnaire for adolescents. It is indicated that the provision of assistance, support, as well as the protection of minors who find themselves in conditions of parental deprivation, are among the tasks of a social pedagogue and a pedagogopsychologist, who have close interaction, including the creation of social and pedagogical support. Such a system prevents and reduces the negative consequences of deprivation.

Keywords: minors, psychological characteristics, parental responsibility, parental deprivation, multifactorial personality questionnaire

On the issue of improving the activities of internal affairs bodies in the field of prevention of self-harming among minors

Anastasia A. Kuzina

Moscow University of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia named after V.Ya. Kikot, Moscow, Russia, kswik@mail.ru

Abstract. The article considers such a common phenomenon among minors as self-harming. The social danger of self-harming is expressed in the negative consequences that are the result of inflicting varying degrees of severity of injuries on oneself. The issue of improving the activities of internal affairs bodies in the field of prevention of selfharming among minors was raised.

Keywords: self-harming, minors, psychological characteristics, mutilation, prevention

Psychological and pedagogical features of the upbringing of children of primary school age

Elena A. Piskovitina¹, Natalia B. Nizhnichenko²

^{1 2} Moscow University of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia named after V.Ya. Kikot, Moscow, Russia

¹ lenopik@mail.ru

² office@unity-dana.ru

Abstract. The psychological and pedagogical features of the upbringing of children of primary school age are considered. The basic rules for the development of children are outlined, the observance of which by parents will determine the further upbringing of the child. The events that happen to a younger student at school affect his further personal development. This segment of life has a high significance, which determines the relevance of the work.

Keywords: psychological and pedagogical features, children of primary school age, education, personal development

Interpersonal communication in adolescence

Anastasia A. Serova

Moscow University of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia named after V.Ya. Kikot, Moscow, Russia, nastena.serova.2001@mail.ru

Abstract. In the article, interpersonal communication with peers is considered as a leading activity for a teenager. The psychology of interpersonal communication in adolescence is based on two differently directed needs: isolation and aphoriliation — inclusion in a group or community. There are three main forms of adolescent communication: intimate-personal, spontaneous-group, socially-oriented. As a rule, the spontaneous-group form of communication with peers dominates.

Keywords: interpersonal communication, adolescence, activity, isolation, aphoriliation, forms of communication of adolescents

Causes and factors of anxiety in adolescence

Anastasia D. Titareva

Moscow University of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia named after V.Ya. Kikot, Moscow, Russia, onesca@mail.ru

Abstract. The article presents the causes and factors of anxiety in adolescence. It is indicated that their own parents have a great influence on the development of anxiety in adolescents, choosing the wrong methods of raising a child and protecting him from any kind of potential threat. Anxiety on the part of a teenager often results in antisocial behavior, which can lead to acts that are contrary to social norms.

Keywords: adolescence, adolescence crisis, development of anxiety, personality trait, fear, increased caution, indecision, parents, parenting methods

Methods and techniques for conducting a survey of minors who are eyewitnesses of a crime as part of a pre-investigation check

Irina O. Trushina

Moscow University of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia named after V.Ya. Kikot, Moscow, Russia, trushinairisha17@gmail.com

Abstract. The article reveals some features of the survey of a minor — an eyewitness to a crime, related to the psychological and emotional state of the respondent. It is indicated that when choosing a methodology and methods for conducting a survey, an official must be guided by the circumstance of the need to establish psychological contact with a minor, which will achieve the goal of conducting a procedural action and contribute to the investigation of a criminal case in the future.

Keywords: minor, eyewitness of a crime, psychological and emotional state, establishment of psychological contact, methods and techniques for conducting a survey

Methods for solving the problems of disorientation of moral values of cadets

Evgenia D. Vasilyeva¹, Irina V. Usacheva²

^{1 2} Moscow University of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia named after V.Ya. Kikot, Moscow, Russia

¹ Zeneska27@gmail.com

² irina-u@yandex.ru

Abstract. The article reflects the features of the education of moral values in the process of becoming a cadet's personality from early childhood. The basic concepts are clarified, various ways of developing and shaping a cadet's personality through moral education, initial ideas about people's relationships, both interpersonal and professional, are highlighted.

Keywords: modernity, problem, moral values, duties, cadets

Multidimensional competence of subjects of professional activity as a factor of competitiveness

Alexey S. Vinogradov

Kosygin Russian State University, Moscow, Russia, Epyfis@mail.ru

Abstract. The article analyzes the complex of knowledge that ensures the proper level of competence of a specialist, determining his competitiveness in the labor market due to the fact that in terms of content, such a level of competence most affects the final result of professional activity.

Keywords: multidimensional competencies, multidimensional competence approach, competitiveness, professional activity

Professionally important qualities of psychologists of the Interior Ministry units

Valeria A. Vinogradova

Moscow University of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia
named after V. Ya. Kikot, Moscow, Russia, valera.vinogradova.2001@list.ru Abstract. The article emphasizes the importance of psychological units in the system of the Ministry of Internal Affairs, since without them it is difficult to identify people entering the service or current employees who have deviations from the norm. These divisions help employees to avoid negative consequences after prolonged stress exposure, etc. To perform all the tasks that psychologists face, it is necessary to have professional and personal qualities acquired and constantly improved during training and work.

Keywords: psychological units in the system of the Ministry of Internal Affairs, professionally important qualities, professional competence psychological assistance

Methodology for the formation of digital competence among future inspectors of juvenile affairs

Anastasia A. Gavrilina

Moscow University of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia
named after V. Ya. Kikot, Moscow, Russia, nast.gavrilina@yandex.ru Abstract. The article shows the need for the use of digital services, digital resources, digital technologies, digital tools in the implementation of preventive activities of the inspector of juvenile affairs. The advantages that the use of digital services gives in relation to the preventive activities of the PD inspector are revealed. Cyber studies are considered as one of the methods of forming digital competence for future PD inspectors.

Keywords: juvenile affairs inspector, the use of digital services, digital resources, digital technologies, digital tools, preventive activities, cyber education

The process of adaptation of first-year students as a condition for the successful formation of self-development competence in educational organizations of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia

Anna M. Golubkina

Moscow University of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia named after

V. Ya. Kikot, Moscow, Russia, anitka55@mail.ru

Abstract. The process of adaptation of cadets to the conditions of the educational process of educational organizations of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia has been studied as one of the key conditions for their successful and full-fledged development, determining the formation of self-development competence as future specialists of internal affairs bodies.

Keywords: adaptation of first-year students, competence of self-development, level of microadaptation, level of macroadaptation, level of adaptation to the educational process

Conflicts arising among cadets and ways to resolve them

Irina A. Dumina

Moscow University of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia
named after V. Ya. Kikot, Moscow, Russia, irinadumina@bk.ru

Abstract. To eliminate the conflict, its participants need to change the conditions in which they interact and eliminate the effect of the causes of conflict formation. Most of the cadets in the educational institutions of the Ministry of Internal Affairs resolve the conflict by means of educational influence. This method is understood as the prevention of the occurrence and further spread of interpersonal conflicts and the establishment of certain values of the personality of future officers. Another way to resolve the conflict is to create the most favorable conditions for the interaction of the team, maintaining a balance of the status of interests, views, opinions.

Keywords: conflict, personality of the future officer, individual, interaction, behavior style

Training of police officers to work with juvenile delinquents

Daria A. Dyukova

Moscow University of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia
named after V. Ya. Kikot, Moscow, Russia, ol.mironenkova@gmail.com

Abstract. Technologies, forms, methods and means of increasing the effectiveness of professional training of police officers in dealing with juvenile offenders are based on such methodological approaches as systemic, competence-based, personal, activity-based, subjective and individually differentiated.

The professional training of police officers to work with youth is presented as a system of their additional professional education, focused on theoretical (a system of specific psychological and pedagogical knowledge), practical (a system of practical and professional skills) and personal (a system of professionally important personality traits).

Keywords: police officer, professional training, juvenile delinquent, additional professional education, systemic, competency-based, personal, activity-based, subjective and individually differentiated approaches

The main methods of self-regulation in managing the behavior of cadets in the classroom for firearms training

Artur A. Egorov

Moscow University of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia
named after V.Ya. Kikot, Moscow, Russia, art.scorpion247@gmail.com

Abstract. To improve the performance of cadets at the shooting range, a necessary condition is the use of various methods of self-regulation, including neuromuscular relaxation, ideomotor training, autogenic training and sensory reproduction of samples. The relevance of the topic indicates the need for further deep and comprehensive analysis of the problem of self-regulation in managing the behavior of cadets at the firing line, as well as the development of a special program for the application of methods and techniques of self-regulation at the stage of preparation for shooting.

Keywords: cadets, firing line, methods of self-regulation, neuromuscular relaxation, ideomotor training, autogenic training, sensory reproduction of samples

Volitional qualities of police officers as a factor in the success of their professional activities

Olga A. Lidzhieva

Moscow State University of Psychology and Education,
Moscow, Russia, olyalidjieva@yandex.ru

Abstract. In the study, an attempt was made to establish the role and significance of the volitional qualities of the personality of criminal investigation officers with an indicator of the success of their professional activities. It is assumed that the strong-willed qualities of employees of the criminal investigation departments of the internal affairs bodies of the Russian Federation can have a significant impact on the success rates of their professional activities. The greatest role as a factor in the success of the professional activities of criminal investigation officers is played by such volitional qualities of a person as determination and attentiveness.

Keywords: volitional qualities of the personality of police officers, stressors, service tasks, extreme situations, success in professional activities, determination, attentiveness

Psychological factors for the emergence of conflicts in the activities of internal affairs bodies

Maria M. Rybak

Moscow University of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia named after V.Ya. Kikot, Moscow, Russia, masharybak14@gmail.com

Abstract. The relevance of the article lies in the fact that it is necessary to understand what main psychological factors can contribute to the emergence of conflicts in the internal affairs bodies in order to further take actions to strengthen relationships in the process of performing official activities. To conclude that in the departments of internal affairs bodies there are various kinds of negative circumstances that can contribute to the development of conflicts. Timely work with personnel on the part of managers, psychologists will eliminate the possibility of conflicts.

Keywords: psychological factors, conflict, activities of internal affairs bodies, strengthening relationships, psychological assistance

Acmeological support of the process of becoming a professional career of a future juvenile inspector

Olga S. Smirnova

Moscow University of the Ministry of Internal Affairs of Russia
named after V.Ya. Kikot, Moscow, Russia, olya.smirnova.asm@mail.ru Abstract. From the point of view of the psychological and acmeological approach, the process of training future PDN inspectors should be continuously associated with individual, creative growth, with the effective passage of the stages of professional development (mastering competencies, regulatory legal acts), with the psychological aspect (stability, selfregulation, control), with an acmeological aspect (self-improvement skills, regulation of one's learning activities). All this confirms the necessity of creating conditions for a successful process of training future PDN personnel.

Keywords: acmeological support, professional career, future juvenile inspector, personnel training

Legal opinion on the determination of facts relevant to the recognition of the will invalid

Tatiana V. Larina

Scientific Research Center for Expertise and Research, Russia, Moscow, larinatat@rambler.ru

Abstract. A legal opinion is given on the determination of the facts that are important for the recognition of the will as invalid.

Keywords: legal opinion, investigation, notary, certification of the will, executor, invalidity of the will